WHO WE ARE

FVO was established as a local NGO by a group of experts who work in different sectors related to the humanitarian and journalism majors. As an NGO, FVO realized the crucial gaps between providing aid, media, peacebuilding, and the need for building the resilience of communities.

We believe at FVO that the best solutions to support the people in crisis and conflicts should be by a quick transformation from rapid response to resilience method, as this approach within humanitarian operations is crucial to the first efforts of a community to recover, rise again, and start to use their capacity, starting from making peace and employing the media means in innovative measures at the first stages, ending by early recovery and rehabilitation at later stages.

FVO INTERVENTION MaP

Development

FVO has strongly been focusing on livelihood programs from enabling smallholders and small-scale fishers, farmers, and pastoralists to increase productivity (including production restoration), build resilience, rehabilitate and construct assets, access markets and ensure the food security for their families in a sustainable manner through conditional and unconditional Food, livelihood and advisory assistance and support.

FVO works to strengthen local communities and experts towards creating resilience, promoting inclusive governance, gender equality, and women's voice as FVO looks at the four pillars of food security: access, availability, utilization, and stability. "

Economic Empowerment and Recovery

FVO has expanded further to follow the paradigm of sustainable development goals, which aims at economic development in an efficient and sustainable way through many tendencies that mainly comes with FVO main mandate that can be also reflected from the organization name (FVO) that refers to “Future Vision Organization”.

End poverty in all its forms everywhere
Promote sustained, inclusive, and sustainable economic growth, full and productive employment, and decent work for all
Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all

Resilient Infrastructure

FVO has devised a coherent implementation strategy in order to ensure that the recovery of community infrastructure starts as early as possible and meets the immediate, medium, and longer-term needs of the affected community.

Once the identification and prioritization of community infrastructure schemes by FVO, the task of designing straightforward engineering solutions, and undergoing any relevant tendering and contracting processes can be readily pursued in accordance with FVO standard procedures. FVO covers schemes, which correspond to different areas or sectors such as water, education, health and productive assets.

Education

13

Since education is a powerful element of recovery and development and one of the strongest tools for decreasing poverty and convalescing health, gender equality, peace, and stability in Yemen, FVO has taken serious steps towards renovating the education system mainly and directly in rural areas and conflict-affected areas for displaced children, girls and most vulnerable children across many prioritized areas in Yemen and ensure that schools remain open and operational.

14

FVO aims to help children affected by humanitarian crises to have access to safe, quality and accredited primary and secondary education. Education in emergencies projects focus on helping children who are out of school back into education. They also ensure their retention through various formal and non-formal education pathways. As the quality of education greatly depends on teachers, FVO action supports teachers with different types of training, coaching, and protection actions. In emergencies, education actions go hand in hand with protection, providing safe and healing learning spaces and, where needed.

Water and Sanitation

FVO has been prioritizing Water and Sanitation in its nationwide being one of the major sectors in the organization and by being capable to implement all various lines of activities at all levels of facilities, community and household, FVO is contributing to ensuring that every vulnerable person living in poverty and experiencing disadvantage throughout the country of Yemen (prioritizing the remote, rural, and chronically vulnerable people) has the right and improved access to safe and long-term durable drinking water and sanitation services.

FVO has been taking the bath of providing affordable, clean and reliable sources of energy through its different programs within both 1) humanitarian settings; emergency and conflict, and 2) development settings to enhance protection, safety, security, productivity, and health for vulnerable people as IDPs, returnees and host communities as well as the environment and also to bridge the gap between humanitarian response and development.

Clean Energy and Environment

FVO has been incorporating green initiatives and environmental management into the design of all of its projects and programs to ensure that people have improved well-being due to the holistic environment and improved resilience in response to the pervasive effects of climate change while reducing the risk of natural disasters and strengthen the capacity of communities and institutions to respond to disasters, while promoting clean, sustainable energy sources.

Improve the environment by reducing pollution, eliminating dumping and minimizing the release of hazardous chemicals and materials, halving the proportion of untreated wastewater, and substantially increasing recycling and safe reusing.

FVO is mainstreaming the conversation of the environment with all of its activities and projects. implement integrated water resources management at all levels, including through transboundary cooperation as appropriate

FVO promotes the implementation of sustainable management to increase afforestation and combat desertification, restore degraded land and soil, including land affected by desertification, drought, and floods. FVO supports climate-smart practices—like organic production—that boost farmer yields and incomes while building resilience to climate shocks. FVO is focusing to achieve equitable access to safe and affordable drinking water for all vulnerable people and people in need. FVO ensures that people have access to adequate improved environmental sanitation, this includes providing support to repair sanitation systems and improve the availability and quality of sanitation facilities for vulnerable people.

Media

Assist to make a critical role of the humanitarian journalism within the current settings by gathering the personalities who are working in the media and humanitarian fields with all their aspects to participate, dialogue and make some constructive ideas at one table, one hand, and one heart.

Also help to play an important role in encouraging journalists in their actions towards serving those weak societies living under such catastrophic humanitarian reality.

FVO's media in development programme seeks to encourage media entities and persons in Yemen to play a larger role in issues concerning development, by strengthening the bond of trust between journalists and civil society organizations in Yemen. The development of innovative productions, both nationally and locally, helps people understand and appreciate how everyone can contribute, in their own way, to these global movements. Cooperation between the media goes a long way to optimising the impact of certain development aid programmes that FVO have initiated.

Media

Heritage Protection and Advocacy

21

Future Vision Organization (FVO) officially registered with No. 1043 seeks to give the individual and society the capability to adapt on the changes and difficulties in life. Some of our most necessary goals are disseminating a national, humane, democratic, creative, and renewable culture which develops the preservation of pluralism and the esteem of the equality, freedom, social justice and human dignity, in addition to provide an environment that stimulates cultural creativity, and attention to all tangible and intangible cultural assets and creators in various cultural fields by conveying their artistic works to all cities of Yemen and marginalized regions to enhance the cultural communication among Yemenis.

FVO is committed to the conservation, continuation, and communication to the society of the Yemeni's natural and cultural heritage, present and future, tangible and intangible and via providing an emergency response to cultural heritage at risk from armed conflict and natural disasters.

Heritage Protection

FVO's Cultural Heritage Initiatives implement cultural property protection by: Documenting damage; Promoting awareness; Planning emergency and post-conflict responses and the purpose of preserving cultural treasures to enhance Yemeni national cultural identity as well as for the educational and financial benefit of current and future generations.

Refugees, Asylum Seekers and Migrants

FVO with its qualified staff in the field across its coverage areas is focusing on the implementation of Protection and multi-sectorial projects that targets Refugees, asylum seekers, and migrants with lifesaving and protection services and via ensuring that most of FVO's modalities for response are holistic mostly by encompassing capacity building of national institutions to ensure sustainability integrating response within existing national system, such as FVO's support of hospitals and schools to absorb refugees and asylum-seekers.

Protection

FVO focusses on Seeking to ensure that Refugees and migration-management policies, practices and debates take into account the particular protection needs of asylum-seekers, refugees and stateless people, and acknowledge the legal framework that exists to meet those needs; Meet asylum, Refugees and migration-management challenges in a manner that is sensitive to protection concerns;

Supporting stronger governance and closer observance of human rights, including the rights of all persons on the move, regardless of their legal status, in ways that reinforce the principles and practice of international refugee protection. FVO provide life-saving aid to displaced Yemenis, as well as to refugees and asylum-seekers, across the country. Under the humanitarian coordination system in Yemen,

Multi-Sector Response Plan (RMMS)

FVO provide protection, shelter and non-food items, cash assistance for asylum-seekers to cover their most urgent needs , as well FVO support health facilities that serve refugees, asylum-seekers and Migrants affected by violence.

Ensuring that Refugees, Asylum Seekers and Migrants and the communities that host large numbers of them are not left behind

Peace Building and Governance

Peace Building and Governance

FVO has been focusing on including peacebuilding and community cohesion initiatives, including reintegration of internally displaced people and returnees to their original areas of habitation or preference, community dialogue and women inclusion.

FVO also works towards strengthening the resilience of local communities in the face of future conflicts, strengthening local conflict resolution mechanisms, reducing the reality of local tensions and addressing local conflicts.

In the midst of conflict and a breakdown of services in Yemen, FVO has been focusing on Rebuilding Governance projects that support civil society and local authorities across the country to create the conditions needed for long-term reconstruction and development. FVO strengthens the skills and abilities of targeted communities, including displaced, marginalized and harder-to-reach groups, to jointly work towards creating peace and resilience, promoting inclusive and self-governance, gender equality and women's voice.
